

Learning About (Y)our Past (2017) - Factsheet

General information
Name project	Learning About (Y)our Past. History lessons for intercultural citizenship in the EuroMed region.
Publish date	2017
Association	EUROCLIO
Representative	Loizos Loukaidis
Project structure and roles	International team with various cultural and professional backgrounds (authors and coordinators). Three meetings for initial planning, peerreview and final editing of the resources. In between the meetings the project team worked on collecting source material and piloting the resources in practice.
Government's role (initiative/ endorsement/ no role)	No role
Target area (countries/	Cyprus, Lebanon, Jordan, Turkey

language area)
Content information
Type of education material	Digital teacher instructions, student instructions, and worksheets.
Target group	Students in secondary school, teachers
Topic(s)	National museums in Cyprus, migrations in Turkey and Greece, Lebanese civil war, Golden Age Baghdad, encounters through food.
Theme(s)	Heritage, citizenship, civil war, identity, diversity
Geographical scope	Euromediterranean region
Period	Separate subjects from the 8 th to the 20 th century.
Authors	Alaettin Çarikci, Jihane Youssef Francis, Loizos Loukaidis, Kariman Mango, Hasan Sungur
Editor(s)	Amin Elias
Academic advisor	N/A
Publisher	EUROCLIO
Output	Print: not applicable Language: Arab, English, Greek, Turkish
Website	https://euroclio.eu/projects/learning-about-your-past/

Aim of the project: “The overall objective is to help young people in the EuroMediterranean region to acquire competences for intercultural citizenship by learning about identity and diversity, about positive intercultural encounters and addressing emotive and controversial issues in history education.”¹

¹ “Learning About (Y)our Past: Project Aims,” EUROCLIO, accessed March 9, 2018, <https://euroclio.eu/projects/learning-about-your-past/>