1. Introduction

EuroClio - European Association of History Educators, is a non-profit civil society organisation established in 1992. Its core mission is to support the development of responsible and innovative history, heritage, and citizenship education by promoting critical thinking, mutual respect, peace, stability and democracy. EuroClio holds official UNESCO NGO status and is a member of the INGO Forum of the Council of Europe, the DARE Network, and the Lifelong Learning Platform.

The Association counts 75 volunteer history, heritage and citizenship educators' associations and related institutes from more than 45 mostly European countries and connects around 30,000 professionals, who in their daily work are in contact with more than 4,000,000 students per year. The Secretariat, which has 6 staff members, is supervised by the democratically elected EuroClio Board of 5 members, and frequently advised by a wide range of experts in the networks the organisation has. In 2021 EuroClio involved more than 250 people as an ambassador, author, coordinator, editor, editor-in-chief, mentor, staff member, reviewer, trainee or trainer. Through all its activities, the Association engaged more than 2.000 education professionals from more than 50 countries directly.

The Agenda, Annexes, Booklet, and Presentation used during the General Assembly are available at euroclio.eu/association/general-assembly

The Audit Committee

The General Assembly elects an Audit Committee, whose members meet with the Finance Committee representing the Board and the Executive Director to review the Annual and the Board Report and discuss the financial situation of EuroClio. In 2021, the Audit Committee met online on 5 March and reported to the General Assembly based on the review of the financial management and financial policies.

3. Projects and partnerships

EuroClio worked on several projects and partnerships in 2021 to advance its mission.

The projects:

- Football Makes History provides educators (both informal and non-formal settings) with ready-to-use lesson plans and resources making use of football history to foster social inclusion. In 2021, the last year of project implementation, the project maintained a strong public awareness campaign and produced several short films aimed at the general public, as well as a set of policy recommendations aimed at policymakers in the football, heritage, museum and education worlds. The project was funded through the Erasmus+ programme of the European Union.
- Learning a History that is not yet History II is a project in which history educators from Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, Kosovo, Montenegro, North Macedonia, Serbia, and Slovenia are working on ready-to-use learning activities and a teachers' guide for responsible teaching of the wars in Yugoslavia and its successor states. The project was awarded the Global Pluralism Award in 2019 and is being supported by the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs since 2021. In 2021, the team undertook a research phase to become deeper acquainted with the challenges and needs of the teachers in the region when teaching this controversial topic, established the team of authors for the ready-to-use learning activities and teachers' guide, and began work on the promotional video.
- Online Teaching in the Visegrad Region is a project in which history educators from the Czech Republic, Hungary, Poland, and Slovakia will develop eLearning Activities that can be embedded in classroom practice and help students better understand life in the countries of the Visegrad Region during state socialism. The eLearning Activities are complemented by a teachers' guide on hybrid teaching and learning, authored by four local experts and two members of the Historiana Teaching and Learning team. The project began in September 2021. In 2021, the project consortium and experts carried out focus group interviews in their countries to better understand the needs of teachers, began the work on the teachers' guide, and launched a call of interest to select the authors of the eLearning Activities. The project is funded by the International Visegrad Fund.

Long term initiatives:

- Historiana is an online resource developed by and for history and citizenship educators in Europe and beyond. Historiana offers free ready-to-use learning activities, multiperspective historical content and digital tools. Each year we add new content and improve the functionality of Historiana. In 2021, the historical content and the teaching and learning team have worked on the curation of the different resources, worked on a unit on Pandemics, and learning activities related to World War 2. The concept design and development team worked on a new way of presenting content on Historiana.
- Contested Histories is ongoing research on divisive histories in public spaces led by the Institute of Historical Justice and Reconciliation (IHJR), which is based at EuroClio. By the end of 2021, the number of identified cases increased from 200 cases to 370 and from 70 different countries to 102. Initial research is done by under- and post-graduate students at Harvard University, the University of Oxford and Erasmus University Rotterdam and Independent Researchers. In-depth research on 10 different cases was supported by the Salzburg Global Seminar and the International Bar Association (IBA) and was published in February 2021. In June 2021 the new website ContestedHistories.org was both developed and launched with 20 published case studies. As of 2021 Contested Histories is working to translate the wide body of research into educational materials for use in the classroom.
- In Europe Schools is an online school matching and documentary-making project for schools throughout Europe on modern European History, primarily focusing on four main themes: Difficult History, Migration, Climate Change and Gender Equality. In 2021, 140 schools participated in the project. EuroClio also co-hosted a Webcast with the European Cultural Foundation and the Amsterdam School for Regional, Transnational and European Studies (ARTES), six Webinars and two Online Peer-learning Events. EuroClio continues to match schools and promote the educational resources on the website, through social media and webinars with various partner organisations.
- Sharing European Histories The Evens Foundation, EuroClio and an international team of specialists in history education have worked in the Sharing European Histories project on the design of five strategies that support teaching history in a multiperspective, pluralistic, and engaging way. The strategies have been translated into Albanian, Armenian, English, Greek, Italian, Polish, Portuguese, Romanian, Serbian, Spanish, Turkish, and Ukrainian and are being used for professional development workshops in eight countries. The partnership with the Evens Foundation will end in June of 2021 but will be continued in 2022 with the development of five new teaching strategies. In Fall 2021, a self-guided has been launched.

The partner projects:

- Contested Histories Onsite, in partnership with the Memory Studies Association and EuroClio, are working together to publish a toolkit for educators and other stakeholders to better understand and address complex legacies of Europe's totalitarian past. This project shows guided tours of controversial monuments and aims to guide teachers in how they can approach these complex legacies onsite, as opposed to only in the classroom. In 2021, we successfully executed two (virtual) events on the Warsaw Uprising Museum in Poland and the Bronze Soldier in Tallinn, Estonia and worked with New Eastern Europe on the production of 2 podcast episodes. We completed the first draft of the toolkit, which is on track to be published in the last quarter of 2022.
- The Europeana Foundation and EuroClio are working together to stimulate the use of digital heritage in education. This cooperation focused on the better integration of Europeana in Historiana, the development of exemplar resources and the use of these resources for the professional development of teachers. In 2021, we have written blog posts, organised webinars and held information sessions with cultural heritage institutes that expressed an interest in using Historiana as a tool to encourage the use of their own collections in education, in connection to the addition to Historiana of "partner pages". We have trained more than 10 educators on how to organise local events on the use of Historiana, creating the first group of certified Historiana Trainers. In partnership with the Europeana Foundation and eTwinning, we have also hosted our first self-paced course on how to create eLearning Activities.
- Critical History (led by Tallinn University) is a project funded through the Erasmus+ programme of the EU, consisting of a consortium of four European universities in addition to EuroClio. The project's main focus is to produce a study guide, with learning activities and teaching methods and tools on four topics: Heritage in history education, global dimensions of national history and post-colonial history, public history and history education, and the role and influence of the internet in history education. EuroClio is leading the efforts to collect teaching practices on these topics and worked in 2021 on collecting practices on heritage, global dimensions and post-colonial history. An online seminar in heritage education was also organised, involving amongst others EuroClio Honorary Board Member Maria Grever.
- Histories that Connect - Sri Lanka is a partnership between EuroClio, the International Society for History Didactics (ISHD) and GIZ, the German Development Agency. As part of a wider effort of the GIZ in "Strengthening Reconciliation Processes", the initiative has focused on the development of educational materials for use among Sri Lankan history teachers, with the hope of creating a network of history educators invested in changing the way history education is currently conducted in the country. The initiative has so far produced a research report on the state of history education in Sri Lanka, as well as drafts for a guide on working with sources, a teaching strategy on oral history, a source collection on stamps and a short animation clip on working with sources.

The initiative also organised six online workshops on topics of interest to Sri Lankan history educators, as well as one face-to-face workshop in Colombo introducing historical thinking. The work continues into 2022.

- Teaching European History in the XXI Century (led by Utrecht University) is a Strategic Partnership in Higher Education, bringing together experts in the fields of European history, innovative didactic methods, and the development of innovative teaching materials from seven countries (Germany, Spain, Czech Republic, Hungary, the United Kingdom, France, and the Netherlands). In 2021, the partners have developed a cross border English-language textbook for university courses on early modern, modern, and contemporary European history; as well as a set of six short video lectures to support the material. EuroClio has begun selecting engaging visual and textual sources that enrich the readers' experience and started developing a new section on Historiana where the seven units of the textbook can be made available in digital format. The project is funded through the Erasmus+ programme of the European Union.
- RETHINK - Remembrance Education for THINKing critically (led by France Education International) is a Strategic Partnership for Support to Policy Development and Cooperation. The project, which ran from November 2017 to the end of March 2021, brought together educational NGOs, museums, and archives active in the field of Remembrance Education to create a database of remembrance education practices that can be used across Europe, a teachers' guide on how to adapt non-formal education practices to implement them in the classroom, and an eLearning Platform for teachers' professional development. In 2021, the project launched the eLearning Platform and published the teachers' guide, as well as a set of policy recommendations, in several languages. In addition, in March 2021 the project hosted its final conference online.
- Who were the Victims of the National Socialists? EuroClio has started a new project in November 2021 with the Max Mannheimer Study Centre based in Dachau, Germany and funded by the Foundation Remembrance, Responsibility and Future (EVZ). The aim of the project is to co-create a place-based learning Toolkit to be implemented across Europe, focusing on the question of Who Were the Victims of the National Socialists?, to be delivered by the end of 2022. In 2021, the first three Project Advisors have joined the project team and the framework for the learning objectives has been drafted. A call of Team Members (educators around Europe) and the Video Producer was launched in December.

The partnerships:

- The Council of Europe has started a new intergovernmental project “Educating for diversity and democracy: teaching history in contemporary Europe” and established “The Observatory on History Teaching in Europe” through an enlarged partial agreement. In 2021, EuroClio was a member of the Experts Working Group on History Education, which is supporting the intergovernmental project. EuroClio was selected as the only consortium in the expert's group working on the first regular report of the Observatory. This report will be published every three years and give insights into the state of history education in the states who are participating in the Observatory.
- The Global Centre for Pluralism is developing the Educating for Pluralism Innovation Lab. In 2021, they started to develop a School Reflection Tool that will help schools examine how inclusion and equity currently figure in their policies and practices and what can be done more. They also worked on an outline for a six-week moderated self-paced course where participants collaborate on concrete strategies that support pluralism in the classroom. EuroClio was represented in the expert advisory group for this development phase and will support the Global Centre with the piloting of the first education of the course in 2022 and the recruitment of participants.
- The House of European History. In the past few years, EuroClio has been engaged in a fruitful partnership with the House of European History, especially in relation to the co-hosting of training and peer-review of educational material. In November 2021, EuroClio and the House of European History co-hosted a webinar series on the topic of Fake News and Propaganda, based on the temporary exhibition of the House of European History and educational resources available on Historiana. In addition, they developed a proposal to further advance the cooperation in 2022.
- The International Baccalaureate. The International Baccalaureate. In late 2021, EuroClio and the International Baccalaureate (IB) started developing an action plan for the creation of video training material on “Decolonising the Curriculum”. In 2022, EuroClio will host focus groups with IB teachers to learn more about their needs in terms of training and supporting material and will develop original content in cooperation with the International Baccalaureate.
- The National Committee of Russian Historians. In 2021, EuroClio worked with the National Committee to realise the 1st World Congress of School History Teachers. The Congress, which took place in Moscow from 4-7 October, brought together more than 300 history teachers from around the world to discuss both thematic and methodological issues of history education. EuroClio had the opportunity to bring a large delegation of both speakers and participants to Moscow.

The Congress tackled a number of thematic issues, most notably Revolutions in World History, the role of textbooks in history teaching and how World War II is taught across countries. The Congress resulted in a joint resolution (available in English and Russian) to guide future work.

- The United Nations International Residual Mechanism for Criminal Tribunals (MICT) has renewed its partnership with EuroClio to reach history teachers across the former Yugoslavia. This collaboration is part of the outreach efforts of the former UN tribunal for Yugoslavia (ICTY) with the aim to facilitate the use of the ICTYs archives among local history teachers. Adapting to the pandemic, parts of the programme of teacher training workshops have been moved online or to hybrid formats. The partnership has been expanded to include Croatia along with BiH, Serbia, Montenegro, North Macedonia and Kosovo. The project continues into 2022 and will produce a handbook for teachers compiling the lesson plans produced (largely by EuroClio members in the region)

More information on these projects and partnerships can be found at www.euroclio.eu.

4. Key Activities

Research

EuroClio has continued its research for the Contested Histories cases and has grown its database and mapping study to 370 case studies by the end of 2021, of which 26 were published after peer and external review. The research is now available on contestedhistories.org.

EuroClio researches the needs of history teachers in various ways. To guide its regional work, EuroClio commissioned a 3-week-field research in Sri Lanka, during which history teachers from various parts of the country were interviewed, and did focus groups in all parts of the former Yugoslavia to find out more about the experiences of teachers who are teaching recent history.

EuroClio also worked directly with researchers to advance the teaching and learning of history. EuroClio advised on and facilitated research on Multiperspectivity in Transnational History Textbooks by two researchers from Utrecht University, Bjorn Wansink and Eleanor Rowan.

In 2021, EuroClio hosted research trainees from Oxford University, Harvard University, Erasmus University Rotterdam, and established a new partnership with Leeds University and Radboud University.

Advocacy

EuroClio continued its work with the Council of Europe (CoE), it was represented in the Expert Working Group on History Education, contributed to the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe (PACE) and was selected as the only consortium to contribute to the Regular Report of the Observatory of History Teaching in Europe.

EuroClio supported the OSCE Office for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (ODIHR) and UNESCO in the organisation of two regional conferences on Addressing anti-Semitism through education. EuroClio attended the 2021 meetings of the CoE Conference of INGOs, contributed to a session during the European Commission Working Group on Anti-Semitism during the session "Dealing with antisemitic content in Palestinian schoolbooks", contributed to an experts meeting on Integrated Approaches to Europe's Dissonant Heritage in Barcelona.

EuroClio supported the initiative Values Unite in setting up a European Alliance for Citizenship Competences. The goal of the Alliance is to enhance citizenship competencies in Europe. This is envisaged to be done by connecting with policy-makers to enable the legal framework and regulatory ground, as well as campaign for increased funding.

In 2021, EuroClio also collected input from several Ambassadors and shared this with the UN Special Rapporteur on the right to education, Koumbou Boly Barry, in response to a request related to the report the Right to education: the cultural dimensions of the right to education, or the right to education as a cultural right.

Fundraising

In 2021, EuroClio submitted 9 project applications of which five were successful (Watching Videos Like a Historian, Who were the Victims of the National Socialists, Online Teaching in the Visegrad Region and EU Operating Grant 2022-2024, and Histories that Connect - Sri Lanka). EuroClio also joined 5 partner applications of which 2 were successful (Innovation Station, Football Makes History II) and one is pending. We also agreed on a new work programme with Europeana for the 4th year of Europeana DSI4.

Most of these projects are connected to long term initiatives, meaning that the results of past work will continue to be expanded upon, ensuring sustainability. The Evens Foundation extended the partnership with EuroClio.

Five concept notes were developed for future projects, including the topics: the history of colonialism and transatlantic slavery, media literacy, women's representation in history, oral histories in Central and Eastern Europe, and European Union history from the perspective of countries outside the EU. One concept note for a professional development month themed around the topic "the fragility of democracy" was also produced.

Educational Resources

In 2021, EuroClio worked on four lessons on the Yugoslav Wars that are now ready for piloting as part of the Learning a History that is not yet a History II project. All educational resources developed in the Football Makes History project was published. These include a toolkit for non-formal education made by the FARE (Football Against Racism Europe) Network, Learning Activities and Source Collections. We also added support for audiovisual sources in the Historiana platform.

Professional Development

In the face of the continuing Covid19 pandemic, EuroClio hosted in 2021 six webinar series aimed at training participants not only on how to approach the topics at hand in a meaningful and engaging manner but also on how to innovate their online teaching practice. Each webinar series took place over the span of two months and was complemented by an ambitious outreach campaign. The themes tackled in 2021 were:

- In January and February: European Remembrance, through the webinar series "Lest we Forget";
- In April and May: Decolonising History;
- In May and June: Football Makes History, through the webinar series "FC EuroClio";

- In July and August: Assessment in history and citizenship education, through the hybrid webinar series “Pass or Fail”
- In September and October: the Fragility of Democracy, in the series “A Resilient Promise”;
- In November and December: Fake News and Propaganda.

Each webinar series resulted in the creation and publication of a resources booklet, collecting all resources, readings, and lesson plans shared during the live sessions and on the EuroClio Website.

Throughout the year, EuroClio carried out also several project-specific courses and sessions (including Lest we Forget and FC EuroClio):

- The webinar series on “How to develop quality eLearning Activities on Historiana”, dedicated to advanced Historiana users and launched in 2020, continued until August 2021 and was complemented by a course on how to teach the use of Historiana to peer teachers and a self-paced course on developing eLearning Activities hosted on eTwinning. In December 2021, EuroClio launched a follow-up course on “Using Historiana to teach history from different angles”. The first session of the series took place on 7 December and focused on Coffee as a Global Commodity and how to help students “see the bigger picture”.
- In fall 2021, EuroClio hosted a self-guided course on Sharing European Histories, consisting of a combination of pre-recorded sessions and live reflection moments.
- Within the Contested Histories Onsite project, EuroClio hosted two virtual tours: the Warsaw Uprising Museum (July 2021) and the Bronze Soldier of Tallinn (October 2021).

In addition, EuroClio hosted several “one-shot” sessions upon the demand of its members and community. These included a session hosted by a member of the Special Interest Group “Teachers as Researchers” (May 2021), a session on the alternative history curriculum in Bosnia and Herzegovina (June 2021), and a session on creating a safe space for online learning (December 2021).

In total, EuroClio trained more than 1500 educators over more than 45 online sessions throughout 2021.

In the fall of 2021, with the gradual relaxation of Covid19 restrictions, EuroClio was also able to co-host two face-to-face training sessions: the World Congress of School History Teachers, which took place in Moscow from 4 to 7 October and saw 150+ history teachers from Russia and across the world meet discuss the current status of history teaching; and a dedicated training within the Learning History that is not yet History II project, which took place in Belgrade from 21 to 24 October.

Finally, EuroClio trained over 12 full-time trainees and over 25 research trainees and volunteers. Moreover, the association has provided many opportunities for its staff to develop different skills over the years.

Outreach and Exchange

Throughout 2021, EuroClio shared information via its newsletter, its website, and via various social media platforms, among them Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn and Instagram - with steady levels of growth in followers across these platforms. EuroClio has, in the last years, expanded its outreach activities to new media, including the issuing of bulletins and the running of a podcast Past Times: Talking and Teaching History. Bulletins are published on a twice-yearly basis, and in 2021, EuroClio successfully produced and published a total of 6 podcast episodes. 2021 also saw the continuation of EuroClio's own podcast, with a total of 6 episodes produced. Towards the end of 2021, EuroClio invested in a revision and upgrading of its website design. This development not only makes the website more aesthetically pleasing and engaging but also increases user-friendliness and makes it easier to work with at the back-end and to share certain website pages to other social media platforms. In addition, the annual report of 2020 was published, as well as numerous in-depth articles, reviews, blog posts and shorter news posts highlighting opportunities for our community.

5. Financial result and policies

During 2021, EuroClio continued to work on its mission through projects and activities, supported by a range of donors. The continuation of the Covid-19 pandemic prevented some activities that were planned for 2021 from taking place (such as the summer school, winter school and the Masterclass). EuroClio continued to offer opportunities for online professional development and networking in the form of webinars, self-paced courses, and roundtable discussions.

Operating grants

EuroClio receives core funding from the European Union Europe for Citizens Programme and from the Open Society Foundation's Education Support Programme. This core funding supports the main activities and covers the core costs of EuroClio.

2021 was the 4th and final year of the Framework Partnership Agreement between the European Union and EuroClio. This operating grant, managed at the European Commission 'Europe for Citizens: European Remembrance' programme, supports the activities of EuroClio that are related to Remembrance.

2021 was the third year of a 3-year institutional support grant by the Open Society Foundations – Education Support Programme. This core support enabled EuroClio to respond more directly to societal needs, allowed EuroClio to make strategic investments, and work its mission outside Europe. A new 1-year support grant was issued in 2021, which started in December 2021.

Financial and partnership support

The following partner and donors financially supported the work of EuroClio in 2021:

- European Union, DG EAC, Erasmus+ Programme.
- European Union, DG Home, Europe for Citizens Programme.
- European Union, DG CONNECT, Europeana Digital Service Infrastructure.
- Evens Foundation, Belgium.
- EVZ Foundation, Germany.
- Global Centre for Pluralism, Canada.
- House of European History, European Parliament, Belgium.
- European Parliament Representation in the Netherlands.
- Netherlands Ministry of Foreign Affairs.
- Open Society Foundations, Education Support Programme
- UN International Residual Mechanism for Criminal Tribunals.
- Salzburg Global Seminar.

Financial Result

In 2021, EuroClio closed the year with a positive result of € 22.475, which is attributable to the operating grant. More income was generated through projects, core funding, membership fees and consultancy than was spent. There was less income than budgeted, but also more cost savings, especially related to travel and stay due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Throughout the year EuroClio has been monitoring and reducing costs to achieve this result. During the year one interim financial report was produced which helped to identify potential deviations from the budget and steer the year to a positive end. Good oversight for the Association, alongside the normal external accountancy/audit scrutiny, was ensured by the Board's Financial Committee, and regular Board to monitor the financial health of EuroClio, and take measures where needed. EuroClio has monitored the expected vs realised income and expenditures on a monthly basis and kept an updated overview of the liquidity planning.

Contingencies

Of the 10.000 euro that was budgeted for contingencies, € 6.918 has been used. These were costs that could not be claimed from the EU operating grant in 2020 because of underspending on travel and stay compared to the budget.

Operating Reserve

It is the policy of the Board to allocate positive results to an operational reserve. Such an operational reserve is needed to secure the continuity of the organisation but also to avoid issues related to liquidity and to improve the financial operational capacity of EuroClio. Although the operating reserve is now at a satisfactory level, the operating reserve will be gradually increased, to make it possible for EuroClio to extend its reach and operations.

At the closing of 2021 accounts, this reserve now stands at € 101.518 (compared to € 79.043 at the end of 2020).

Over time

In 2021, the EuroClio staff members worked more than they were contractually obliged. A reservation for up to 15 in lieu days is included in the accounts to compensate for the over hours. The rest of the overtime, which is the equivalent of € 20.094, has been waived by those staff members to which this applied.

7. Plans and challenges for 2022 and beyond

In 2021-2024, the Association wants to further develop EuroClio as a professional community of history and citizenship educators. For this, more educators need to be reached and ensure that they benefit from the work done by the Association and are being mobilised. To achieve this, we will focus more on core activities and long term initiatives and less on (partner) projects, work on strategic partnerships and increase our support to professional volunteers.

We will work on

- Research, by identifying relevant practices and resources on the focus areas and thematic priorities we work on, using and refining a measuring system to monitor and evaluate the impact and progress of our work, writing articles on the history of EuroClio, and mapping the needs of history and citizenship educators.
- Advocacy, by consulting our members on key issues, representing their interests and voicing their concerns by working with intergovernmental organisations (including the Council of Europe, the European Parliament, the OSCE and the United Nations), by updating the EuroClio Manifesto, issuing and responding to policy recommendations, and mapping quality standards for history and citizenship education.
- Fundraising. For this, we will prioritise fundraising for our flagship initiative, for projects and activities that make use of projects that were successfully completed, arrange meetings with representatives of previous, current and potential donors, and refine the workflow for identifying, documenting and responding to leads for fundraising.
- Professional development, we will offer several series of online opportunities for professional development on thematic priorities, map workshops that we can embed in events organised by members and partners, work on capacity building through our projects and partnerships, offer (research) traineeships to university students and young professionals, and enable our staff members to develop professionally in their area of work.
- Educational resources. The development is done as a collaborative design, including testing, peer-review, editing in transnational teams. These resources include lesson plans, source collections, animations, eLearning Activities and digital tools. We will create these as part of projects, flagship initiatives, strategic partnerships, and map relevant resources related to our priority themes, thereby responding to the current needs and developments of history and citizenship educators internationally.

- Outreach and exchange, by developing and sharing inspiring and useful content (in the form of blogs, reviews, digests, podcasts, videos) through our website, newsletter, social media, and bulletin, by developing PR materials to support advocacy, fundraising and member recruitment (including a video introducing EuroClio and its work), and by continuing to systematically map and use communication and dissemination channels.

For our long term initiatives, we will:

- Further develop Historiana as a tool for educators to find and create resources for innovative and responsible history and citizenship education. We will focus on making existing content easier to find (through browsing, filtering, tagging and sorting), enabling partner organisations to contribute to the development of Historiana, and making it easier to create content.
- Make the research on iconic cases of contested histories available on contestedhistories.org, promote the use of the existing research by educators and policymakers, and use it ourselves to raise awareness of the importance of history and memory for intergroup relations. In addition, we will continue the mapping study, research new cases and select cases that will be kept up to date.
- Test and improve the Masterclass as an effective means to introduce EuroClio and its approach to teaching and learning history and citizenship in diverse settings across the world when this is responsible in light of Covid-19 restrictions).
- Promote and support teachers and students to work with the In Europe Schools toolkits and

Themes and priorities

EuroClio will advance its work in the following focus areas that are part of the strategic plan 2021-2024.

- Promote a transnational and multi-perspective approach to history education.
- Make learning history motivating, meaningful and inclusive.
- Use new technologies to enhance history education.
- Prevent and resolve conflicts related to history and memory.
- Support educational reform based on democratic values.
- Use research to advance the teaching and learning of history.
- Advance teaching and learning about the European Union.

In addition, there are thematic priorities for each year, such as decolonizing history and the fragility of democracy. For each of these priorities, we will identify relevant practices and resources, offer opportunities for professional development and work on outreach and communication.

Membership recruitment and involvement

EuroClio will offer various ways in which members can engage with the work of EuroClio. Members have free and unlimited access to webinars and online events, can start and join special interest groups, get refunds for reviews of podcasts, books, games and exhibitions, can use the online conferencing software from EuroClio, and get advice on fundraising. EuroClio will offer more membership services as the membership grows.

In 2021, EuroClio launched a new service for its (full) members: a training catalogue. The catalogue lists several training sessions or workshops that have been successfully carried out in the past and that members of the EuroClio community can replicate upon request of EuroClio members.

Strategic partnerships

EuroClio will continue its work with strategic partners and alliance building. These partners include the Bundeszentrale für Politische Bildung, the Centre for Historical Culture, the Council of Europe, ENRS – European Network of Remembrance and Solidarity, European Schoolnet, the Evens Foundation, Europeana, EUROM – European Observatory on Memories, Facing History and Ourselves, the Georg Eckert Institute for International Textbook Research, the Global Centre for Pluralism, the House of European History, IHJR - the Institute for Historical Justice and Reconciliation, IB – the International Baccalaureate, LLLP - the Lifelong Learning Platform, Memorial de la Shoah, the Network of Concerned Historians, the OSCE (the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe), the Russian National Committee of Historians, The UN International Residual Mechanism for Criminal Tribunals (MICT), UNESCO, the Northeast Asia History Foundation, and a range of Universities and Teacher Training Institutes across Europe.

Predicted Challenges and Risk Mitigation

Human Resources

From 2021 onwards, the staff has increased to more than five f.t.e. (full-time equivalent). This increase reflects the ambition of EuroClio to grow and increase its impact. More staff enables us to prioritise thematic work, offer more and better membership services, provide better support to the teams leading the flagship initiatives, and manage more projects and partnerships.

Additional funding, greater diversity in donors

EuroClio will work to diversify its funding in order to increase its impact, to be better able to respond to opportunities and challenges related to our mission and to be more resilient to changes in the funding landscape so that we can continue to function on a professional level in the future as well.

In terms of priorities, we will seek financial support for current projects, long term initiatives, and projects that build on the results of successfully completed projects. For this, we will explore private foundations, launch a fundraising campaign for the Masterclass (once it is possible to travel) and seek support from Ministries of Foreign Affairs.

Operating Grants

2022 is the first year of the EU Europe for Citizens Operating Grant that EuroClio currently receives for its work on European Remembrance. This support will continue for the next four years. Because the Open Society Foundations are revisiting its priorities and have indicated that it is not certain that it is able to continue providing operational support, the operational support for 2022 will be used in such a way that it helps the EuroClio function on a higher level independently.

Covid-19

In 2022, the pandemic will remain an uncertain factor. Because we did manage to have some face to face meetings at the end of 2021, we will return to planning face to face meetings in 2022. To counter the risk, we will budget more costs for unforeseen events and decide one month in advance whether to proceed with the event or not. At the same time, we continue to offer opportunities for online learning and carefully assess whether it is necessary to travel internationally before embarking on a mission.

Activities

EuroClio, the European Association of History Educators (Chamber of Commerce number 27263208) is statutory established at the Riouwstraat 139, 2585 HP, The Hague, the Netherlands. EuroClio is a democratic Association that brings together other democratic associations at its General Assembly. This body adopts overall planning, elects and discharges board members and follows good governance procedures, which are governed by the EuroClio Statutes and Internal Rules.

The mission of EuroClio is to inspire and empower educators to engage learners in innovative and responsible history and citizenship education. The vision of EuroClio is for all learners to become more responsible and contributing citizens through engaging in history and citizenship education for mutual understanding and peace.

EuroClio's is working to advance its mission by:

- Applying for and implementing projects with and for history and citizenship educators and their associations. EuroClio can also join projects led by partner or member organisations.
- The collaborative design, review and publication of open educational resources that are ready to use, and free to share and adapt by educators and learners. The development process is part of capacity building and includes measures to control the quality, such as peer-review, external reviews, and piloting. EuroClio develops resources that can be used online or offline. The resources are based on active methods and promote historical and critical thinking through a multiperspective and inclusive approach to teaching and learning history and citizenship.
- Offering online, offline, and blended opportunities for professional development of history and citizenship educators. The professional development offer includes activities such as: Conferences, Seminars, Workshops, Lectures, Roundtables, Webinars and Online Courses. Most of these activities are centred around a theme that is relevant for EuroClio's mission.
- Sharing information that helps to advance the teaching and learning of history education. This is done by writing and sharing articles, opportunities, reviews of books, games, and podcasts, making and publishing our own podcast and bulletin, maintaining, and updating our website, sending direct mailings to members, sharing information via social media, and issuing press releases.
- Advocating for innovative and responsible history education, especially on international level. For this, EuroClio makes policy recommendations, responds to consultations, and represents its community during experts meetings organised by intergovernmental bodies who are working on education, such as the European Commission, the Council of Europe, the OSCE and UNESCO.
- Researching and documenting inspiring practices, resources that are relevant for its annual thematic priorities, the needs of history and citizenship educators and their students in particular country contexts and cases of contested histories.
- Sharing expertise through consultancies, for example by reviewing and advising on curricula, the design of professional development courses, and by giving workshops or lectures on demand.

More information about EuroClio's activities can be found in the Board Report and euroclio.eu.

2.4 Principles of valuation of assets and liabilities and principles for the determination of the result

Continuity

The operating reserve of the association EuroClio is € 106.199. It is the policy of the Board to allocate positive results to an operational reserve. Such an operational reserve is needed to secure the continuity of the organisation, but also to avoid issues related to liquidity and to improve the financial operational capacity of EuroClio. Although the operating reserve is now at a satisfactory level, the operating reserve will be gradually increased, to make it possible for EuroClio to extend its reach and operations.

EuroClio will work to diversify its funding to become more resilient to the changes in the funding landscape. A priority is the acquisition of funds that are either unearmarked or support the development of long-term initiatives.

Since 2006, EuroClio receives an EU Europe for Citizens Operating Grant, in the form of Annual Operation Grants. In addition, since 2015 EuroClio receives core support from the Education Support Programme of the Open Society Foundations. These grants cover the general costs of EuroClio. Although our cost-structure is flexible enough to absorb decreases in funding, we do see continuation of this grant as essential for continuing our activities on the present basis.

In 2021, EuroClio was able to secure operational and core support from the European Union for the period 2022 - 2025, in incremental amounts for the four years to support the growth of the association, and from the Open Society Foundations for 2021- 2022. The future priorities and education strategy of the Open Society Foundations are not clear yet.

In 2022, EuroClio will strive to secure operational and core support from new foundations and organisations.

2.4 Principles of valuation of assets and liabilities and principles for the determination of the result

General accounting principles for the preparation of the financial statements

General

The annual accounts are prepared on 17 March 2022 in accordance with the Dutch accounting standards for small and not for profit organizations (RJ C1).

Valuation of assets and liabilities and determination of the result takes place under the historical cost convention. Unless presented otherwise, the relevant principle for the specific balance sheet item, assets and liabilities are presented at face value.

Income and expenses are accounted for on accrual basis. Profit is only included when realized on balance sheet date. Losses originating before the end of the financial year are taken into account if they have become known before preparation of the financial statements.

Comparative figures

Certain comparative figures were reclassified where necessary to conform to the presentation adopted in the current year. This change did not impact operating reserve and/or result.

Foreign currency

The annual accounts are presented in Euro's.

Assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated at the year end rate of exchange. Transactions in foreign currencies are translated at the actual rate of exchange. The resulting exchange differences are accounted for in the profit and loss account.

Reimbursements are issued in euro's using InforEuro exchange rates.

2.4 Principles of valuation of assets and liabilities and principles for the determination of the result

Accounting principles for the valuation of assets and liabilities

Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are presented at cost less accumulated depreciation and, if applicable, less impairments in value. Depreciation is based on the estimated useful life and calculated as a fixed percentage of cost, taking into account any residual value.

Project receivables and project liabilities

Projects are valued at realized expenditures covered by the grant less received instalments.

Receivables

Receivables are included at face value, less any provision for doubtful accounts. These provisions are determined by individual assessment of the receivables.

Cash

Cash consists of cash and bank accounts and are at the Associations free disposal.

Pensions

The pension scheme is in fact to classify as a defined benefit scheme. The pension scheme is regulated by ABP. EuroClio uses the exemption mentioned in the Dutch accounting standards to work out this scheme as a defined contribution scheme. Therefore it is sufficient to include the pension premiums to be paid in the profit and loss account. As a result of this, there are no negative or positive risks committed with this pension scheme taken in the valuation of the liability.

Accounting principles for the determination the balance income and expenditure

Revenues from services are recognised in proportion to the services rendered. The cost price of these services is allocated to the same period.

Operating grants

Operating grants are included in the profit and loss account in the year to which the subsidized expenses are charged, if the assumption is that the subsidy conditions will be met.

Funding conditions

EuroClio implements its activities within approved plans, which are subject to various types of funding. Every funding obtained by EuroClio under such contracts is subject to the full delivery of approved activities, and compliance with standard administration procedures, initial eligibility criteria and reportage commitments. Depending on the type of grant, there are different specific conditions which EuroClio has to comply with. These are addressed below, where significant:

The EU “Europe for Citizens: European Remembrance” Operating Grant 2020 is part of a Framework Partnership Agreement 2018-2020 (now extended to include 2021 as well). There is a co-financing condition of 31,15% in order to be eligible for the maximum annual funding of 200.000. The additional funding cannot be resourced from other EU grant, so EuroClio fulfils this conditions by having non-EU donors, as well as participation fees and membership fees.

In 2020, EuroClio was lead in two projects funded by the EU Erasmus+ programme, and partner in three projects under the same funding scheme. The contracts signed between EuroClio as project leader and the Dutch National Agency for Erasmus+ include specific conditions by which EuroClio provides additional insights into its financial capacity through review of the general ledger with each interim financial reportage. As project partner, EuroClio provides the project coordinator with similar insights periodically as well.

The Open Society Foundations Core Support is conditional to EuroClio passing a US-based “Equivalency Check”, which effectively check to what extent the non-profit status of the organization (ANBI status under Dutch law) can be seen to be equivalent with US charitable status. In this check are also included various conditions related to the role the organization might play in lobbying of decision makers.

Independent auditor's report

General Assembly of
EuroClio - European Association of History Educators

Report on the audit of the financial statements 2021 included in the annual report

Our opinion

We have audited the financial statements 2021 of EuroClio - European Association of History Educators, based in The Hague.

In our opinion the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of EuroClio - European Association of History Educators as at 31 December 2021 and of its result for 2021 in accordance with the Guideline for annual reporting of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board for small entities C1 Small not for profit organisations.

The financial statements comprise:

1. the balance sheet as at 31 December 2021;
2. the statement of income and expenditure for 2021; and
3. the notes comprising a summary of the accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Basis for our opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Dutch law, including the Dutch Standards on Auditing. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the 'Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements' section of our report.

We are independent of EuroClio - European Association of History Educators in accordance with the Verordening inzake de onafhankelijkheid van accountants bij assurance-opdrachten (ViO, Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, a regulation with respect to independence) and other relevant independence regulations in the Netherlands. Furthermore we have complied with the Verordening gedrags- en beroepsregels accountants (VGBA, Dutch Code of Ethics).

We believe the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Report on the other information included in the annual report

In addition to the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon, the annual report contains other information that consists of the Board report.

Based on the following procedures performed, we conclude that the other information:

- is consistent with the financial statements and does not contain material misstatements;
- contains the information as required by Guideline for annual reporting of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board for small entities C1 Small not for profit organisation.

We have read the other information. Based on our knowledge and understanding obtained through our audit of the financial statements or otherwise, we have considered whether the other information contains material misstatements.

By performing these procedures, we comply with the requirements of the Dutch Standard 720. The scope of the procedures performed is substantially less than the scope of those performed in our audit of the financial statements.

Management is responsible for the preparation of the Board report in accordance with the Guideline for annual reporting of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board for small entities C1 Small not for profit organisations.

Description of responsibilities regarding the financial statements

Responsibilities of management for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Guideline for annual reporting of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board for small entities C1 Small not for profit organisations. Furthermore, management is responsible for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

As part of the preparation of the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern. Based on the financial reporting framework mentioned, management should prepare the financial statements using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Management should disclose events and circumstances that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern in the financial statements.

Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objective is to plan and perform the audit assignment in a manner that allows us to obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence for our opinion.

Our audit has been performed with a high, but not absolute, level of assurance, which means we may not detect all material errors and fraud during our audit.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements. The materiality affects the nature, timing and extent of our audit procedures and the evaluation of the effect of identified misstatements on our opinion.

We have exercised professional judgement and have maintained professional skepticism throughout the audit, in accordance with Dutch Standards on Auditing, ethical requirements and independence requirements. Our audit included e.g.:

- identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, designing and performing audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtaining audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtaining an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control;
- evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management;
- concluding on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting, and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause a company to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluating the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures; and
- evaluating whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant findings in internal control that we identify during our audit.
