

The Complexity of History: Unpacking the Past

Call for Workshops

What are we looking for?

We are looking for inspiring, interactive and interesting workshops that delve into the topic of Unpacking the Past by using one of the three focus methodologies: Dialogue, Debate and Discussion, Controversial Issues, or Questioning.

The workshops should:

- Last maximum 90 minutes, including the time for Q&A and any planned feedback session;
- Involve participants to the workshop with an interactive element;
- Be hosted in English;

What do we offer?

If you are selected to host a workshop at the 29th EuroClio Annual Conference, EuroClio will cover your costs for the final festive dinner (for more information on costs, please see the event page), or offer you an equivalent discount. Accommodation and travel to the conference will not be covered.

Selection process and criteria

The deadline for applying for a workshop is 27.11.2022 at 22:00 Amsterdam Time. We will be selecting at least 7 workshops.

EuroClio will review the applications and prepare a shortlist of applicants on 29 November, and plan a series of follow-up conversations with the shortlisted applicants and members of the EuroClio Board in the first 2 weeks of December. These conversations will focus on the approach used in the workshop and on the interactive element.

We will then select the workshops for the 29th Annual Conference by the December 23rd.

Selected applicants will then be contacted and will receive information on how to proceed for the registration to the conference. Any delay in the selection will be communicated via email to all applicants.

If necessary, a second call for workshops will be open in early 2023.

How to apply?
