Speaker Bios

Gijsbert Oonk is a professor of Migration, Citizenship and Identity and Research Director of the Department of History at the Erasmus School of History, Culture and Communication (ESHCC), Erasmus University Rotterdam. His research spans global history, sport migration.

Jens Lenders is a teacher trainer and lecturer in didactics of history at Fontys University of Applied Sciences. He is a member of EuroClio's Historiana Teaching and Learning Team, contributing to teacher training materials on heritage and history education.

Iwona Guśc is a lecturer and researcher at the History department at Erasmus University Rotterdam. Her research focuses on migration, memory and legacies of the Cold War. In her teaching, she works extensively with oral history and project-based learning, using personal narratives to explore diversity and also ethical questions involved in studying and representing migrant history.

Elise Storck is a Teaching Methodologist for History at Leiden University's ICLON. She was involved in the Spoorzoekersproject (Track Seekers Project), a four-year collaboration in which history teachers from across the Netherlands jointly developed teaching materials on oral history and migration for use in secondary schools nationwide.
